“ Dick was always there for me. He was a great uncle. My memories of milking cows and feeding little kitties in Grandpap's barn and seeing him go off to Fort Knox. Later, when there were only girls on our farm doing haymaking, it was great to see his truck turning into our lane. I knew the task would be much lighter. The day I got married, I discovered there were no tables at our hall and Dick came walking in to help and he and I trucked the tables from the Fire Hall to the Community Center. I dread to think about what would have happened that day without him, There were times of four-wheeling, snowmobiling, and fun. I will miss Uncle "Dickiebird".

“ I am very sorry to hear of Dick's passing. Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend his service. I have one very memorable event with Dick. When I was about 7, and he was about 17, one sunny summer Sunday morning I climbed into their old blue Chevrolet pickup and rode with Dick to various nearby farms to pick up cannisters of fresh milk. Following the pick up, we would bring the milk back to the farm so the dairy truck could pick up milk to take to the processing plant. I can still see myself climbing into the old pickup and Dick behind the steering wheel.
